Appointment of a registered migration agent, legal practitioner or exempt person

Form

956

Who should use this form?

This form can only be used by:

- a registered migration agent
- a legal practitioner; or
- an exempt person.

This form should be used to notify the Department of Home Affairs (the Department) that:

- you have been appointed by a client (eg. a visa applicant) to provide immigration assistance under the Migration Act 1958 and, if applicable, to receive documents on their behalf; or
- your appointment has ended. (You may notify the Department of this in writing if you prefer.)

A separate form 956 Appointment of a registered migration agent, legal practitioner or exempt person must be completed for each matter.

Do not use this form if:

- you have only been appointed as a person who is authorised to receive documents, on another person's behalf, that the Department would otherwise give to them; or
- your appointment as an authorised recipient has ended.

In these cases, please use form 956A Appointment or withdrawal of an authorised recipient.

What is immigration assistance?

A person gives immigration assistance if he or she uses, or claims to use, his or her knowledge or experience in migration procedure to assist a person with matters related under the Migration Act 1958.

The most common times assistance is provided is during visa application processes, visa cancellation processes or sponsorship processes (including monitoring or sanctions).

Note: Immigration assistance does not include simply filling in an application form, translating or interpreting or passing on information about an application without comment or explanation.

Registered migration agents

A registered migration agent is a person who is registered with the Office of the Migration Agents Registration Authority (OMARA) to provide immigration assistance.

If operating in Australia, migration agents must be registered with the OMARA.

Information on registered migration agents, including how to find one, is available on the OMARA website www.mara.gov.au

Legal practitioners

A legal practitioner is a lawyer who holds an Australian legal practising certificate (whether restricted or unrestricted) granted under a law of an Australian state or territory.

Legal practitioners can provide immigration assistance in connection with legal practice.

Information on legal practitioners, including how to find one, is available on the Law Council of Australia website

<https://www.lawcouncil.asn.au/federal-litigation-dispute-resolution/lca-immigration-lawyers>

Information on legal practitioners can also be sought from the relevant state or territory legal professional bodies.

Immigration Advice and Assistance Scheme (IAAAS)

If you are a registered migration agent or legal practitioner who is assisting a client under this scheme, please indicate this on the form at Question 8.

Exempt persons

The following people do not have to be a registered migration agent or legal practitioner in order to provide immigration assistance:

- a close family member (spouse, child, adopted child, parent, brother or sister of a visa applicant);
- a sponsor or nominator for a visa applicant;
- a member of parliament or their staff;
- a member of a diplomatic mission, consular post or international organisation.

As an exempt person you must not charge a fee for your assistance. In Australia, if you do charge a fee you are committing an offence and penalties of up to 10 years jail can apply.

Authorised recipient

An authorised recipient is a person appointed to receive all written communications from the Department on behalf of another person.

If you are not appointed as the authorised recipient, all written communication will be sent to the client or their appointed authorised recipient.

Roles and responsibilities

The Department will:

- discuss the client's case with you;
- send written communications to you (if you are also appointed as the authorised recipient);
- seek information from you.

Consent to communicate electronically

The Department may use a range of means to communicate with you. However, electronic means such as fax or email will only be used if you indicate your agreement to receiving communication in this way.

Electronic communications, unless adequately encrypted, are not secure and may be viewed by others or interfered with. If you agree to the Department communicating with you by electronic means, the details you provide will only be used by the Department for the purpose for which you have provided them, unless there is a legal obligation or necessity to use them for another purpose, or you have consented to use for another purpose. They will not be added to any mailing list.

The Australian Government accepts no responsibility for the security or integrity of any information sent to the Department over the internet or by other electronic means.

Important information about privacy

The Privacy Act 1988 contains 13 Australian Privacy Principles which regulate the way that the Department collects and handles personal information. Information about how the Department collects, uses and discloses personal information for its key functions can be found in form 1442i Privacy notice.
